Lead in a World That No Longer Plays by the Rules

Join a global movement of leaders transforming organisations, institutions, and society.

The world has changed - Leadership has not. Old models have not adapted to this era of:

- Institutional fragility
- Geopolitical instability
- Climate and social disruption
- Rapid technological change
- Unethical leadership

Most leadership models and development programmes were designed for a simpler world that no longer exists – this has become a major institutional risk

This is not just another leadership course. This is a leadership movement.

The Advanced Management Programme (AMP) is the founding cohort of a new generation of leaders. Leaders who:

- Navigate complexity, not avoid it
- Strengthen institutions & society
- Lead transformation across systems
- Who speak truth to power

You are not enrolling in a programme. You are joining a global leadership movement.

Typical Price of an International AMP

$20 000 – $50 000

This Programme: $ 5 000 304.61 USD

What our students think...

The AMP at Alliance Manchester Business School has been a transformative program that strengthened my leadership and management skills, including governance, stakeholder engagement, and data-driven decision-making. I highly recommend it—especially for professionals in developing countries—as it helps you think differently, make better decisions, and support your teams effectively.

Dr Kidist Mulugeta, Policy and governance specialist with experience in peace, security, and regional development in Africa.

About the Course Director

Dr Abdoullie Sallah is an Associate Professor of Leadership and Management at Alliance Manchester Business School.

He is interested in the politics of knowledge production, and his research and writing is an attempt to understand and re-significance the excluded, occluded, omitted and marginalised narratives and voices in management and organisation studies (particularly those from the South). He is interested in organisational leadership and spaces, work and its organisation, postcolonial reasoning, employee engagement, the informal economy, globalisation and entrepreneurship. He is the editor of the Journal of Critical Southern Studies (Globalisation and Development Stream) as well as a reviewer for seven other peer-reviewed international journals.
